

Hyperbaric Oxygen (HBO) Therapy - L5140 Revision History

R7

10/03/2010

Per provider request, added ICD-9-CM diagnosis code 909.2 (late effect of radiation) to the limited coverage for CPT/HCPCS codes C1300 and 99183; coding guidelines added to the limited coverage in the LCD and to the “Coding Guidelines” of the related article for ICD-9-CM codes 909.2 and 990 included requiring inclusion of diagnosis code(s) specific to the condition or the nature of the radiation effect, when known. Effective date: 10/01/2010.

R6

09/16/2009

Added statements in the LCD section titled “ICD-9-CM Codes That Support Medical Necessity” to clarify coding requirements for patients with diabetic wounds of the lower extremities. No change in coverage. Effective date: 09/01/2009.

R5

11/16/2006

Clarified coding of “Diabetic Wounds of the Lower Extremities” in Covered Conditions section of LCD with coding guideline information provided in the Article. No change in coverage. Effective date: 04/01/2003 per NCD 20.29

R4

08/29/2005

Per CR 3172 deleted bill type 22X effective 06/28/2004. Converted LMRP to LCD format as part of June 2005 Annual Policy Evaluation. Updated CMS references to IOM effective 10/01/2003.

R3

10/13/2004

Per 2005 Annual ICD-9 Coding Update: The following ICD-9 code descriptions were changed: 250.70–250.83. All changes are effective 10/01/2004.

R2

07/31/2003

Per CR 2769 - added ICD-9 707.15 to the Limited Coverage section for CPT code 99183, to the Covered Conditions-Diabetic Wounds of Lower Extremities section and to the Coding Guidelines (6th bullet) section. Added bill type 22X (Part A LCD only) to Type of Bill Code section. Effective for dates of service on or after 04/01/2003.

R1

04/01/2003

Added indication for diabetic wound due to National Coverage Decision and PM AB-02-183, CR 2388. Added DM ICD-9 codes. Revised statement regarding credentialing to conform to National Coverage. Removed 18X from the Type of Bill Code List, Part A only.

This LCD was converted from an LMRP on 8/29/2005